

1954
The Durham Kennel Club held its regular monthly meeting on February fifteenth with Dr. Hill presiding.

After the reading and approval of the minutes, Dr. Hill reported to the Club the progress made in organizing the coming Show.

Mrs. Cox announced that a large number of advertisements for the catalog had been acquired and asked the help of all members in getting still more ads.

Mr. Kepler, Obedience Chairman, reported that the spring Obedience Class was well under way with Mr. Harold Graves as instructor.

Dr. Hill then turned the meeting over to Mr. Kepler who introduced Captain J. M. Thornton and Miss Ellen Fisher, both of Greensboro.

Captain Thornton spoke to the Club giving the background of Obedience Training in North Carolina. Miss Fisher, who is the president of the Carolina Dog Training Club, told of some of her experiences in Obedience Training and demonstrated a few of the exercises with her Cocker Spaniel, Little Guy. Both speakers emphasized the great value of Obedience Training for every dog and his master.

After a general discussion of dog training, the meeting was adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,
